

THESE REPRESENTATIVES of Sierra Madre service clubs heard a stirring appeal at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club for financial support to help the City of Hope fight leukemia in its children's wing. Norman Cooper, field representative for the hospital, pointed out that in the past 18 months, 17 patients from Sierra Madre have been hospitalized at the City of Hope at a cost of $15,000. The hospital, non-sectarian and non-profit, has never presented any of its patients with a bill. Furthermore, Mr. Cooper explained, the City of Hope is not a charity hospital, but accepts anybody referred to it by a doctor, who is suffering from operable heart disease, cancer, leukemia or tuberculosis. It costs at least $40 a day, Mr. Cooper said, to support one child. The names of all local organizations who contribute enough to care for one child for one day will be inscribed on a plaque and presented at a later date to the city. Shown above are, front row from left, Rose Udell, president, Ladies Auxiliary, VFW, and Joan Tyree, representative of the Civic Club. In back row are James McCoy, president of the Coordinating Council and chairman of the City of Hope's Christmas Parade of Towns in Sierra Madre; John Curtis, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Harry Holland, of the VFW.

Schools Here Reported In Good Fiscal Shape

The Sierra Madre School District is in better financial condition than it has been for many years, an auditor's report revealed at the Board of Education meeting Monday night.

The Board now has a reserve in the general fund of $43,555, compared with a reserve of only $18,000 at the same time a year ago. The reserve fund, it was emphasized, is not a surplus. It will be used to pay salaries and meet other expenses from July 1 to Dec. 31, the period during which no tax money comes into the district. If this fund were not available, for example, the school would have to borrow money or enforce stringent economies to meet expenses.

THE SITUATION a year ago, with only $18,000 in reserve, forced the School Board to take drastic action, such as selling the bus, closing the cafeteria, and delaying tuition payments to Pasadena.

Board members believe that the $43,000 reserve this year will enable the school to meet all expenses and to put aside a small surplus.

DURING the Christmas vacation, the Board voted to authorize the expenditure of

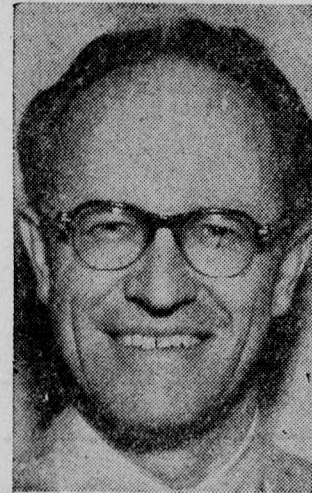

A public meeting to discuss the results of the sixth grade achievement test will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Sierra Madre School. The meeting was called by Sierra Madre teachers because they believe the results of the tests, which showed that sixth graders here were slightly below average in achievement, were widely misunderstood.

approximately $5,000 for repairs and improvements.

These include the installation of dark glass at Sierra Mesa, fencing and installing easels in the kindergarten area, painting, renovating the fire alarm system, sound-proofing the auditorium hallway, installing venetian blinds in several school offices and treating a portion of the school grounds with chlorine.

The School Board also voted to pay half the cost of hiring a crossing guard for school children at Sierra Madre Blvd. and Canon Ave.

THE GUARD will be hired for a trial period by the City

BILL WELSH will be at Roess Market next Thursday, Dec. 6, at 10:00 a.m. with his "Star Shoppers" television show over KTTV. The shoppers themselves will be the stars of this half hour show. The show will take place in Roess parking lot, and will include free merry-go-round rides and other fun for the children as well as their parents.

Valuable merchandise and free groceries will be the prizes awarded to the lucky "Star Shoppers," David Roess announced today.

New Post Is Created By City

The City Council voted at an adjourned meeting Nov. 20 to advertise for a man to fill the still to be created post of Sierra Madre public works department.

The action followed a report by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington suggesting that a public works department be set up which would have jurisdiction over the streets, water and parks department.

Stress was laid at the Council meeting on the water department aspects of the post, and it was decided to emphasize this phase in the advertisement with no detailed specifications on other requirements.

Mr. Bevington told the Council there were two primary aspects to the position:

1. The basic job would be to co-ordinate the programs so that all function smoothly and to lay out long range plans for men and equipment.

2. The man who fills the post must have a general working knowledge of the many activities falling under the three departments in his jurisdiction.

In his report, Mr. Bevington told the Council a public works department would be desirable because of "the expanding work program in all areas of the city during the past years, coupled with projected plans for development of more park areas and recreation facilities."

Masons to Hear State Leader

Leo E. Anderson, deputy grand master of Grand Lodge F and AM of California, will speak at the family night dinner Tuesday evening at the Temple, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Anderson will deliver a holiday message. A capacity audience is expected, according to William E. Bowers, master.

Reservations may be made by calling the secretary, Elgin 5-1774, or the master, Elgin 5-0698.

DRIVE NEARS END

The Junior Red Cross enrollment drive and gift box campaign, which began Nov. 13 in Sierra Madre schools, ends this week, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Florence Peterson, executive secretary of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross.

Report Shows Funds Will Be Available

Sierra Madre will have a new swimming pool by the middle of next June, barring unforeseen developments, City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said yesterday.

Mr. Bevington reported to the City Council Tuesday night that sufficient funds will be available by next summer to pay for the pool.

The Council, after Mr. Bevington's report, voted to hire Robert Ainsworth to prepare preliminary plans for the pool at a cost not to exceed $750. Mr. Ainsworth, the architect who designed the Sierra Madre Public Library, is a member of the City Planning Commission.

At the end of August, Mr. Bevington reported, the city had collected $13,373 from the one per cent increase in the sales tax. By June 15, 1957, the city will have about $42,000 on hand from the tax to pay for a swimming pool.

IT WOULD take the April-June and July-September quarters to have the estimated $60,000 that the pool would cost. There are several city funds, however, from which a six-month loan could be made, if necessary.

Plans for the pool and park area on the water grounds at 621 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. were discussed Nov. 21 at a meeting of city officials. Members of the Planning and Recreation Commissions, together with Mr. Bevington and Planning Consultant Kay Kalicka, decided on a pool 50 by 90 feet to be located where the Youth Hut now stands. The hut will be moved and remodeled.

Previous consideration of a pool 50 by 105 feet was revised after the officials studied figures showing Sierra Madre's requirements would be met adequately by a pool with a minimum of 2,250 square feet. IT ALSO was decided for the present to operate the pool only during the summer months, but to design it with an eye to its future enclosure. Proper heating of pool was agreed upon, and it was pointed out that the Lions Club holds $1,000 for this purpose. The group decided on a family-type pool with adequate shallow area and a low board, and members said also they would consider a "double-end"—with shallow water at both ends, deep water and diving board in the center.

THE CITY OFFICIALS approved a tentative map providing the following facilities: Picnic grounds, at least three tennis courts, two playgrounds, a wading pool, camp grounds and a baseball field. It was estimated the entire project will be completed within three years at a cost of between $120,000 and $150,000.

The group decided to move forward with preparation of working plans and to meet again when they are completed.

Attending the meeting besides Mr. Bevington and Mr. Kalicka were Mrs. Robert E. Wright, Mrs. Elizabeth Steinberger and Mr. Ainsworth of the Planning Commission and Mrs. Stanley Coutant, Milton Goldberg, Frank Barbour and Chairman Herman Ohs of the Recreation Commission.

Cypress Court Job Approved by Council

Work on the improvement of Cypress Court will be started shortly at no additional cost to residents of the area, the City Council decided at its meeting Tuesday night.

The lowest bid the city received for the work was for $10,844, about $1,000 more than the original estimate upon which area property owners were assessed. In order to increase the amount a new assessment district would have to be formed and the whole time-consuming procedure repeated.

The Council decided instead to pay for the additional costs out of city funds. The low bid, submitted by the Osborn Co., was accepted on a motion by Councilman Lorne Pratt.

The Council also approved the appointment of Chalmers Cartwright as temporary recreation commissioner, effective Nov. 10, to succeed Philip Mitchell. The appointment of Mr. Cartwright, playground director here for the past three years, is effective until Dec. 31.

In other action, the Council:

1. Voted to build a sidewalk up the east side of Canon Ave. from Sierra Madre Blvd. to Grand View. In those areas where property owners agreed to share part of the cost, the sidewalk will be concrete, including the area in front of the Sierra Mesa School. The remainder of the walk will be blacktop.

The Sierra Madre School District has agreed to contribute $550 toward the cost of the sidewalk, which is being built primarily as a protection for school children who now must walk in the street.

2. Authorized the police chief to interview and hire a crossing guard at Sierra Madre Blvd. and Canon at a cost not to exceed $1.50 an

Junior High School Here Is Under Study

An inquiry into the feasibility of a junior high school for Sierra Madre was launched this month by the Sierra Madre Co-ordinating Council.

The group appointed a committee to look into various aspects of the proposal and invited a group of experts to discuss the matter at their next meeting Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. in Room 12 of Sierra Madre School.

Invited to appear were Charles A. Skutt, superintendent of Sierra Madre School; Dr. Milton Valois, school board president; Dr. Grace Conzett, liaison between the county and local school boards; L. W. Lisle of the Sierra Madre Planning Commission, and Mrs. Harold Pangborn of Pangborn Realty Co.

The council also at its next meeting will hear a preliminary report from its committee, headed by Mrs. Thomas W. Ames.

President of the Co-ordinating Council, James McCoy of 222 Ramona, stressed that the group had not yet made its mind up about the proposal.

"This is simply a fact-finding and pulse-taking effort," he said, "to find out whether such a school would be feasible and desirable in Sierra Madre."

Factors under study by Mrs. Ames' committee include estimated cost of a junior high, availability of sites, the effect on the tax base, possible enrollment, commitments already made with Pasadena and the county, and courses taken by other cities of similar size and make-up.

The council emphasized that the public would be welcome at its Dec. 4 meeting.

School to Hold Paper Drive

A paper and rag drive will be held Saturday by Ascension Parish Day School to provide funds for operation of the school. Anyone with rags or papers can have them picked up by calling ELgin 6-1530.

Program Set For Children At Library

The first of six special programs for children offered by the Junior Friends of the Library will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Community Room of the Library.

All grammar school children are invited to attend a film, "And Now Miguel," depicting life in the Southwest. The film has won two national awards.

The program will be combined with celebration of National Library Week, which will be marked by a special display for children in the Library.

Chamber Chooses Directors

Four new directors of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce for 1957-59 were named in ballots counted yesterday.

The four are James H. Wolfe, Youngland's; Mrs. Peggy Lusman, Sierra Madre Paint and Wallpaper; Robert Lane, jeweler, and Sterling Ripple, Ripple Mortuary.

Holdover directors for 1957 are Robert H. Green, Mrs. Harold Roberts, Charles E. Louk, Thomas W. Schwartz and David Roess.

New and old directors will meet Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in City Hall to elect a president, vice president and treasurer.

ARTIST DIES

Hugo Ballin of Santa Monica, muralist, writer and film producer, died there this week after a brief illness. Mr. Ballin, who was 76, was one of the country's top decorative painters.

RECEIVING A CHECK for $300 from President Dan Parker of the Friends of the Library is Edward Reep, whose watercolor, "Silver Set in Cool," won the Purchase Prize Exhibit at the Library. Standing with Mr. Parker before the prize-winning painting are Mrs. Marjorie C. Parker of the Exhibits Committee, Friends of the Library, and Dr. Nathan Jacobs, who headed the fund-raising drive for the exhibit.

Santa Opens Yule Season Here Friday

Santa Claus will come to Sierra Madre on a fire truck Friday night, officially opening the Christmas season here.

St. Nick will arrive at 7:30 p.m. and will be in Kersting Court to distribute candy to children.

Christmas trees—100 white and pink evergreens—will be in position by Friday night along Sierra Madre Blvd. and Baldwin Ave. In addition to the novel colors, the trees will be sprayed with mica to make them glitter.

Between Nov. 30 and Dec. 7—the night the Nativity Scene will be lighted in Kersting Square—children may write Santa Claus by addressing their letters in care of the postmaster, Sierra Madre. Santa will pick up the letters on Dec. 7 and they will be distributed to local service clubs.

Also on hand Friday night to introduce the Christmas season will be a little German band and a children's choir. Stores will start staying open nights on Dec. 7 until Christmas.

Record Mailing Expected Here

Postmaster Charles E. Louk this week urged Sierra Madreans to shop early and mail early this Christmas season to facilitate the processing of the largest Christmas mailing in the history of the Sierra Madre post office.

To put off mailing Christmas cards and parcels until the last moment results in an extra burden being placed on postal employees and facilities, Mr. Louk pointed out.

"By following the simple suggestions of mailing early, wrapping carefully and addressing plainly, the citizens of Sierra Madre will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail," Postmaster Louk added.

Parking Problem Explored

In one of its first official acts, the Sierra Madre Parking Commission has created a minor furor, particularly from members of the Parking District who are paying for the three lots.

Most of the criticism is a result of confusion and misunderstanding. True, the Commission has erected signs restricting parking to three hours in one lot and to two hours each in the others.

The two-hour limits, though, were inaugurated only as a test. The signs in these two lots—at Auburn and Montecito Court and on the southeast corner of Baldwin—have been covered and parking limits will not be established until the lots are 80 per cent full.

Three-hour parking has been established on the lot at Baldwin and Montecito because it is nearly always full during business hours. Most of the cars parked there belong to people who work in Sierra Madre.

The three members of the Parking Commission—Chairman Tom Schwartz, Don Jackson and Carl Hansen—believe the lots were built primarily for customers, not solely for employees of Sierra Madre businesses.

This attitude was widely held by almost all the businessmen in town and resulted in the formation of the parking district.

It would be folly, it seems to me, to restrict parking in the lots if there is no need for it. There certainly appears to be no need now in two of them. The Parking Commission recognizes this fact, as evidenced by the 80 per cent figure.

The Commission, which was appointed by the City Council, has the authority to recommend time limits for parking in the district. Whether it has authority to enforce these decisions without an ordinance from the Council remains to be seen.

The Commission has been accused on this point of putting the cart before the horse. Commission members, on the other hand, feel there is no need for an ordinance at this time.

Under current regulations, in any event, you can park all day if you like on two of the lots and for at least three hours in the third.—H.W.E.

Around and About

With
Edward Lloyd Voorhees

From reading romantic novels about European nobility we Americans sometimes get the impression that dukes, counts, marquises, barons, et cetera, and their wives, spend their time going to the races, tea, operas, and otherwise spend the rents collected from the "peasantry" by their fiscal agents.

However, the daily papers give evidence that such is no longer the case. With the changes from an agricultural to an industrial economy, it is now "fashionable," as well as necessary, for much of the nobility to have a business or take a job.

In England, for example, outstanding brewers, automobile manufacturers, newspaper publishers and other promoters of work and capital are not infrequently "knighted" by their sovereign as a mark of their success in business.

WHILE THIS "making" of new nobility was never frequent in Italy under the monarchy, it is true that many of the titled families there keep their estates and fortunes in repair by "engaging in trade." Thus, the Duca (Duke) da X, in Sicily, keeps up his vast landed estates and city palace by his enormously successful wine business; another, Duca Y of Turin, has a handsome salary as a top executive in a wholesale petroleum agency; and Count Z in Rome has a highly-rewarding agency for a well-known French automobile tire. His large, well-staffed offices occupy one side of a palatial three-story house, his spacious apartment being in the other half.

Between the hours of 12 and 3 daily, business in Rome is generally suspended, while the men are at home for lunch, leisurely rest, and the visits of intimate friends.

THE COUNT and Countess Y being friends of my friends in Rome and Turin, I was invited by the countess, whom I had met earlier in Turin, to a small post-luncheon coffee party at their apartment.

Here I was introduced to the count, to one of their two sons who was keenly interested in his own public garage for the servicing of cars, and to several friends of the family, one of whom was the minister from Monaco to the Vatican.

Later that afternoon the Countess Y took me to the weekly "at home" of the Marchesa (Marchioness) Z, an American lady whose residence was a vast apartment in one of Rome's largest and most famous Renaissance palaces.

In the great dining room the largest round table I have ever seen displayed native and exotic delicacies of drinks and pastries, amid which, "as usual" (the countess told me), reposed an American pie, this time a custard chifon, a la Roman, square instead of round, but OK in taste!

AMONG THE 20 or more guests were men of various professions, military and civil, including a large impressive gentleman who was the minister to the Vatican from Jordan, two Roman princesses, one of them American, and other noble ladies. Of the latter, one was a young, beautiful and brilliant Hungarian whose titled Roman husband was a political writer on a newspaper of the extreme right. She gave us a spirited account of the attack her husband's editorial was making "tomorrow" on the government. (Shades of Mussolini, thought I, times have changed!)

Soon nearly everybody was playing canasta, and I heard bits of talk in French, Italian, Hungarian and English. Such is the international society of Rome, where art, business matters of State and Church bring together persons from every race and country of the globe, and have done so for two thousand years.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

I think everyone who has tried to justify his gift of life has dreamed—in his youth, at least—of being a candle-bearer to the gods.

He has thought less of wealth or fame or position than of lighting a path to some lofty peak of human achievement. But about the time we get out of school we "come down to earth," as most good, common-sense, practical persons put it, and decide that what really matters is to have as good a home car and position as the Jones have—a little better if possible—and certain assets or ties which fairly well insure us against the future.

Thus many of us never achieve the things for which we were created, never develop the special talents the good Lord gave us to use in making our fair contribution to the world we live in.

I have often pondered this. I am optimistic enough to believe that all of us are born great. That is, each of us—excepting the feeble minded and those who are mere brothers to the ox—is born with all the essentials for great and noble achievements if only we will develop them.

The tragedy is that nine out of ten of us are like foxhounds following an aniseed trail—we spend our lives in vain pursuit of nothing.

So last week I was impressed by the ideas of one Lamar Jackson, of Turlock, Cal., whom I met in Hollywood. Mr. Jackson's idea is that every human being is a Univac, a computing machine whose responses are automatic developments of the facts, ideas and aspirations fed into him.

"Most of us," Jackson said, "never start out with definite goals in mind. Lacking them, we naturally have no definite methods of procedure toward them, no positive guideposts nor warning posts along the way. Each of us should make a blueprint of his goals, his ideals, the things he surely must do and those he must not do, and study it every day as a navigator studies his course and his compass."

Such a blueprint for living would have to include the brightening of one's immediate surroundings, the gladdening of one's daily contacts—and that certainly would improve one's own character.

Certainly no one can achieve a goal he has lost sight of. "The world will stand aside," David Starr Jordan once said, "for the man who knows where he is going."

Everyone wants to help the person who has an admirable goal and proceeds toward it with fairness, courage and honor. And it might help most of us to keep our goals in sight if we followed Mr. Jackson's plan, drew ourselves a blueprint and looked at it every day.

Letters to the Editor Column

Dear Sir:

I wish to commend you for the excellent column by Lee Shippey, which appears in your paper entitled, "What Do You Think?" The issue of Oct. 18 contained a most forthright and honest appraisal of the situation in our country today and Mr. Shippey is to be congratulated not only for his integrity but for his intelligence as well.

May we long have the benefit of his knowledge and experience!

Sincerely,
AVA HELEN PAULING

Dear Sir:

Fines do not seem to be the answer to our traffic violations. Perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the car from one to 30 days.

If we had to do without the car for a few days each time maybe we would wise up.

Los Angeles.

Dear Sir:

The following is a copy of a letter sent recently to President Eisenhower, under the heading: "The spoken truth should underwrite our work for freedom." Our Dear President:

May we, the citizens, know (be told again) that:

1. The Soviet Government of Russia holds (your summary) under slavery.
2. The Soviet Government is straining to amass nuclear armament, thus necessitating our own straining.
3. The Soviet Government refuses mutual inspection for good faith.
4. The Soviet Government

obliterates Hungary's and Egypt's efforts to be free.

5. Egypt's Nasser confiscates international guardianship of the Suez Canal lifeline.

6. Are the United Nations planning to assist the serf states toward freedom?

7. Notwithstanding timing and procedure, is it right to hampers and jeopardize England and France in their effort to keep the Suez Canal lifeline free?

Thank God for your loy-

Thank God for your cour-

In prayer,

She came to see her husband—stayed to charge the cannon!

NEITHER BATTLEFIELD NOR housework defeated Molly Pitcher.

Her real name was Mary Ludwig Hays.

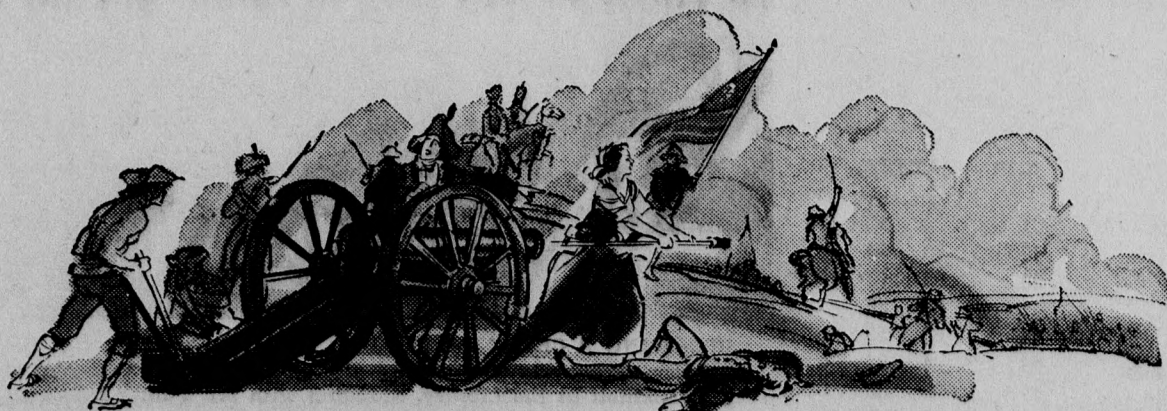

And on June 28, 1778, she came to Monmouth County, New Jersey, to visit her husband, an artilleryman serving in the Revolutionary War. When the battle of Monmouth began, Mary saw so much to be done that she just stayed.

Under the torrid sun, she carried countless pitchers of water to the exhausted and wounded soldiers. And when her husband fell wounded, she took his place at a cannon. Before the battle ended, Mary Ludwig Hays became famous as Molly Pitcher, one of this country's first heroines.

Today's battles are being fought on the economic front. And there's much that any woman can do to help in this field. A family's sound financial standing depends as much upon a woman's ability to manage money as it does her husband's ability to make it.

Many women are helping their families win financial independence by encouraging their husbands to invest regularly in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. It's the easiest way to save—one of the safest—and one of the best ways to guarantee future prosperity.

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds.

Delta Zeta Alums to Honor New Members at Party

Delta Zetas of the Pasadena-Foothill alumnae group will honor newly-initiated members of Delta Sigma Epsilon, recently merged with Delta Zeta, at a get-acquainted party tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the San Marino home of Mrs. Hugh Jones, 750 Old Mill Rd.

The union of these two national sororities was effected last August. The organization retained the name of Delta Zeta, the larger group, which has a total of 82 college chapters.

Delta Sigma Epsilon was the second oldest and largest of the national teachers' college sororities with 46 chapters. This merger will make Delta Zeta one of the largest national sororities with a total of 117 college chapters.

The existing Delta Zeta chapters at the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of California at Berkeley, San Jose State College, San Diego State College and Long Beach State College have now added Santa Barbara, Fresno and Chico State College to their roster, bringing the total in California to eight chapters.

Newly-initiated Delta Zetas will be greeted by Mrs. Howard Hitchcock, president of the local alumnae; Mrs. E. Hale Beckmann, member-chairman; Mrs. James Conzelman and Mrs. Lon Boen.

Candlelight Rites to Climax Methodists' Yule Season

A Christmas Eve Candlelight Service, featuring special music by the Chancel Choir under the direction of Sam Kirk, will highlight the Christmas Season at the Sierra Madre Methodist Church. The service will start at 11 o'clock and conclude at midnight.

A Family Night Carol Sing is planned for Dec. 23 at 7 o'clock. In addition to the singing of familiar carols, special music will be furnished by the youth and adult choirs, accompanying the reading of the Christmas Story.

Dr. Chilton McPheeters, pastor, has released the following sermon topics for the Advent Season: Dec. 2, "Wise Men and Fools"; Dec. 9, "The Pearl of Greatest Price"; Dec. 16, "Voices of Bethlehem"; Dec. 23, "Faith in Swaddling Clothes."

"Christmas belongs to Christ!" Dr. McPheeters said this week in expressing the hope that advance announcement of these services would encourage the public in general to participate more fully in those activities that focus attention on the "true meaning of Christmas."

Circuit Leader Of Witnesses Arrives in Area

Peter D'Mura, circuit supervisor of ministers for the Watchtower Society, has arrived for a two-week visit with Temple City's two congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses.

During the coming week he will be with the east congregation, which has many members from Sierra Madre and which is headed by Jerry Steinberger, presiding minister. Mr. D'Mura is accompanied by his wife, Mary, who assists him in all phases of the circuit work.

Mr. D'Mura will speak on the subject, "Has God's Purpose of Mankind Failed?" this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. and next Sunday at 3 p.m. in Kingdom Hall, 5602 N. Rosemead Blvd.

What Others Believe . . .

Bethany Church keystones: Evangelism, Independence

By Robert N. Schaper, Ph. D.
Pastor, Bethany Church

The beliefs of any church are not only the bones and sinews that give it structure, but they constitute the justification of its existence. In a day in which more and more religious interest is stirring in the minds of the American people it is doubly important that a church should make very clear the creed.

Such clarity will produce a type of religion that is warm-hearted and clear-headed, and it will lead to a spiritual vitality through definite purpose, instead of futile wandering in a religious vacuum. Bethany Church most certainly wants you to know what it believes.

One of the common public misunderstandings about Bethany Church is to assume that the name "Bethany" identifies the church in Sierra Madre as a part of some kind of an association of other churches with a similar name.

"Bethany" is merely a Bible name of a place where Jesus loved to go with His friends, Mary, Martha and Lazarus. The original meaning of the name is obscure. Bethany Church does not have any organic connection with other churches that have similar names. As a matter of fact, "Bethany" has been used to identify churches of all denominations.

There are three words that can be used to summarize the distinctive features of Bethany Church, the things that justify its separate existence. They are: evangelical, independent, and interdenominational.

Bethany is an evangelical church. The dictionary defines this as being a type of Protestant faith that is conservative and orthodox. These terms, however, are relative and should be more clearly identified. An evangelical church is one that believes in the inspiration and authority of the Scriptures. The Bible, as the final rule of faith and practice and of supreme authority in the life and conduct of the individual and the church, is one of the cornerstones of evangelical Christianity.

It was this return to Biblical authority that marked the beginning of Protestantism, and this truth has continued down to the present time. Being evangelical, Bethany Church firmly takes its position upon the conservative tenets of the Christian faith. These include such principles as; the Deity of Jesus Christ, His sinless life, His sacrificial atoning death, His bodily resurrection, the necessity of a new birth by personal trust in Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of sins, a life devoted to the things of God, an expectation of eternity in bliss for the redeemed, and the anticipation of the return of Christ to the earth.

These great truths have been a part of the belief of the church throughout its entire history, and the evangelical position resists any attempted changes in these basic doctrines.

This evangelical position is experiencing a new vitality around the world. Its Bible-based message has proved indeed to be "good news" of salvation and light. The amazing response to Billy Graham around the world is a testimony to the dynamic quality of this preaching, for Mr. Graham preaches a simple, "conservative" and "evangelical" gospel.

This evangelical position has inevitably produced a church that is "missionary" in its approach. Taking seriously the commission of Christ to "go into all the world," Bethany Church has constantly increased its missionary program through its history.

It now helps in the support of ten missionary families or organizations by gifts that total more than $1,000 a month. Several of these missionaries were brought up in the church and gave their lives for foreign mission service in Bethany.

Being an "independent" church means that Bethany is completely autonomous and self-governing. It is incorporated under the laws of California and has a board of trustees that administer the material properties of the church, and a board of elders and deacons that administer the spiritual life of the church. These boards and the pastor are all accountable to the congregation in its official church business meetings.

All such offices are passed on by the church as a whole, so that no board or group is self-perpetuating. The membership of the church is extended to those who agree to its statement of faith, and covenant to abide by its principles and promote its welfare. There is no official body-local, regional or national that has the authority to direct the church as to any matter of policy or action, without the approval of the congregation.

The church is an official member of the National Association of Evangelicals, and as such makes its contribution to this organization and acts upon its policies and program, but this is a representative kind of participation rather than any subjection to an authority outside the church itself.

This form of church government cannot be regarded as unusual, since it is, in essence, the policy of all churches with a congregational structure of church administration. However, since Bethany Church is not identified with any system of doctrine or polity by its name, the church exerts constant effort to keep before the people its statement of faith.

In being interdenominational, Bethany Church has so arranged its statement of faith and its church policy that any person of regular Protestant groups who would consider himself evangelical and Bible-believing could join the fellowship of the church and participate in its activities without any personal compromise of his particular denominational belief.

Baptism is not required for church membership, although it is encouraged to the extent that each one is admonished to follow the ordinance in what he considers to be a Scriptural fashion.

The Lord's Supper is observed upon the first Sunday of each month, and is open to participation by all who desire it. There is a serious attempt to present to the people the various views of different denominational groups on various doctrines that are controversial. The individual member is free to follow his own conscience on these matters, but still live in harmony and fellowship with those who are of like mind as to the essentials of Christian faith.

This is a true "ecumenical" that rests firmly on the broad base of evangelical Christianity. Bethany Church believes that the only true spiritual unity must emerge from a common, mutual faith in Christ. It is stated in the Apostle's Creed: "The communion of saints" based on "the forgiveness of sins."

Bethany Church was originally formed in order to preserve an evangelical testimony and to provide a church in which individuals who were possessed of a similar faith in Christ and the Gospel could unite their efforts not only to build themselves and their families in the faith of Christ but to reach others with the message of salvation and life.

Although Bethany Church is conservative in its theology, it is progressive in its approach to the needs and methods of ministry to the people of this community. The church is especially alert to the needs of young people and through its Sunday School and Christian Endeavor organizations is trying to provide wholesome activities with a consistent spiritual emphasis both to build the young people in their knowledge of the Word of God and their faith in Christ, and to challenge them with the opportunities of Christian service that are all around them.

What Bethany Church believes is perhaps best demonstrated in its process of membership. A small booklet given to each applicant contains a fairly detailed statement of doctrine which includes the inspiration of

W. T. PURKISER, president of Pasadena College, will be guest speaker at the Church of the Nazarene in Sierra Madre on Dec. 9, according to the Rev. Orlan G. Burlison, pastor.

Dr. Purkiser is widely known both as a Christian educator and as an author. His published works include "Know Your Old Testament"; "Exploring the Old Testament"; "Conflicting Concepts of Holiness, and Security, the False and the True."

Special music for the service will be played by the "Ambassador Quartet," whose members are students at the college, which is one of seven maintained in the U. S. and Canada by the Church of the Nazarene.

Monthly Rite Will Mark Chanukah

The Junior Congregation of Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima St., will hold its monthly service Saturday at 11:15 a.m. to commemorate Chanukah, the Festival of Lights.

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel will conduct the services, assisted by Cantor Salo Blumenthal.

All students of the Sunday and Hebrew Schools are invited to attend. Youngsters from 9 to 14 are now assisting in conducting these services. Cantor Blumenthal leads the children in chanting the hymns and prayers.

Don Cozen of Pasadena is chairman and will be glad to assist and answer any questions regarding transportation at Elgin 5-6221.

The Junior Congregation's Services will follow immediately after the regular Sabbath Services, which commence at 9 a.m. with Rabbi Steckel conducting and Cantor Blumenthal assisting.

Dedication Rite In Memory of Robert E. Wright

A new pipe organ console will be dedicated Sunday at 11 a.m. in St. Luke Episcopal Church, Monrovia, in memory of Lt. Cmdr. Robert E. Wright of Sierra Madre, who died in August 1954 at the U.S. Naval Hospital, San Diego.

Commander Wright came to Sierra Madre in 1934 after many years' residence in Mexico, D.F. He had been chairman of the Planning Commission here for a number of years before entering the Navy, and also was president of the Planning Congress of Los Angeles County.

the Bible, the Trinity, the Person and Work of Christ, the Holy Spirit, the plan of salvation, eternal destiny and the nature of the church. The applicant then signs the following statement:

"I desire to be received into the membership of Bethany Church of Sierra Madre. I have received Jesus Christ as my own personal Saviour.

"I embrace the statement of doctrine of this Church. In accepting this membership, I covenant before God to be loyal to the interests of the Church, to seek its purity and prosperity, to serve in whatever definite Christian work I can, to be subject to the discipline of the Church, and to contribute as God has prospered me."

What Bethany Church believes is more than a creed, it is a Person. Its desire is to continue to give pure testimony to the love and grace of God the Father as revealed in Jesus Christ the Son and imparted through the Holy Spirit.

'Menorah—Symbol of Life' Is Topic of Temple Services

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel will conduct services Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima St., in commemoration of Chanukah and Hadassah Sabbath.

Rabbi Steckel will speak on "Menorah—The Symbol of Life." The Menorah is a candlestick with many branches. For Chanukah it consists of nine tapers, with the ninth somewhat higher than the others. The ninth taper is for the servant light which lights all the other candles, which symbolize the eight days the one small cruse of pure oil burned.

The Menorah became the symbol of Jewish people and Jewish life in the home and in the Synagogue the world over, and represents the eternal faith of the Jewish people. Chanukah is the Festival of Lights and the Rededication of the Temple in Jerusalem when Judas Maccabee with his followers were successful in defeating the ancient Syrians and Greeks in 164 B.C.E. and retaking the Temple.

Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist the rabbi in conducting the services.

Hostesses for this evening's Oneg Shabbath following the services will be the members of Hadassah. Hadassah is an international organization of women who have helped to rebuild the Jewish homeland.

Congregational Plans Class

A one-night class on the history, doctrine and polity of the Congregational churches will be held at the local church this evening.

The Rev. George W. Lindsay, pastor, will lead the discussion. He will consider the organization and structure of the Sierra Madre Church, in addition to the general doctrines and history of Congregational churches. The public is invited.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Owen of 72 W. Montecito will mark their 50th wedding anniversary next week at the home of their son, Wright Owen, of Pasadena.

Santa's Corner

By Marge Thomas

I hope your pencils are all sharpened and you are making out your Christmas lists—we have just a little better than three weeks before the "big day" is upon us. Fortunately, our local merchants are "coming to our aid" with many attractive gift suggestions just as attractively priced.

OSTI'S NURSERY has received shipment on their attractive tropical plants for both indoor and outdoor planters. There are also planters of brass and ceramics that are available in a wide assortment of sizes and styles. Arrangements have been made to have all of your gift purchases attractively wrapped free of charge.

RASMUSSEN APPLIANCES have gotten in a number of items for the athletically-minded. They have tennis rackets starting at $4.85 and table tennis sets starting at $2.95. Their Volt footballs are priced from $4.29 and the basketballs from $6.95. Stop in and see all the things that will look so wonderful under the Christmas tree.

Don't overlook PERRY'S GIFT AND STATIONERY STORE when you are trying to fill out your list. There are any number of attractive gift suggestions. The imported Italian handblown glass decanters are very pretty and are priced from $3.50.

RALPH'S SHOE STORE INC. has some of the prettiest slippers you have ever seen. The children's slippers start at $1.95 but if you have a young lady on your list you must see some very "gussy" jeweled numbers at $6.95. The assortment of men's slippers start at $2.95.

BYRON HOPPER, Jeweler, has a large stock of platinum, palladium and white and yellow gold settings to give those old stones of yours the "new look." Next time you are in town stop in—you will be surprised how reasonable the cost of a new setting is.

You have a real treat in store when you stop in MC KIBBEN FURNITURE and see their beautiful Wright glassware. These pieces are made in West Virginia in the original antique molds used before the turn of the century. There are so many interesting shapes in lovely jewel tones. There are items in this line for as little as 60c.

FASHION FUTURE has so many pretty things. One of the petticoats is so attractive that the owner would be tempted to just forget about the skirt. There are some very cute "fancy pants" that would appeal to a woman of any age. In fact, the lingerie is all very lovely and attractively priced.

In case you haven't noticed, ROYAL DRUG carries a very complete line of perfumes and colognes. You'll find L'Avon, Guerlain, Chanel, Christian Dior, Bal de Tete, Dana, Cody, Yardley, Faberge and Hattie Carnegie.

YOUNGLANDS have a very complete line of costume jewelry for the "young miss" which includes pins, necklaces, bracelets, pony tail clips and barrettes—all priced at $1 each.

You must stop in at ARNOLD'S HARDWARE and see the adorable miniature Christmas lights made in Italy. There are 35 lights on a string and the set is guaranteed for seven years. Tiny white or colored bulbs are inserted in thimble-size crystal bells. These strings of lights are ideal for door and fireplace decoration as well as for table arrangements. Even if you don't buy them you have to stop in and see them.

DON JACKSON has so many attractive things for men. There are some very elegant hand monogrammed Madera handkerchiefs from Portugal that are $2.50 each and Australian lamb's wool sweaters at $9.95. The 100% lamb's wool sport shirts from Switzerland are of handkerchief weight and you would expect to pay far more than the $14.95 on the tag.

Don't forget the HIGHLANDER has a complete stock of imported and domestic spirits. One stop will assure you a nice selection for any of your holiday needs. The teenagers must make a point of stopping in at ROBERT W. LANE, Jeweler, and registering for one of the "Seventeen Date Calendars." There is no charge for these attractive art calendars but the number available is limited so get in early.

SIERRA MADRE HARDWARE has a nice selection of Cosco kitchen stools and ladders. They are available in a pretty selection of pastel colors and are priced from $5.95. There is nothing that is more appreciated in the kitchen than these helpful stools and ladders. When you are in the store, take a minute to look at their decorated milk glass. This attractive line starts at $1. The next time you are in ROBERT'S MARKET you must inquire about their custom packed boxes and baskets for the holidays. There is a large assortment of domestic and imported items available for the most elaborate gift you might wish. Remember, you may have them packed for shipping or they may be delivered, locally, the day before Christmas. To assure yourself of not being disappointed in your selections, place your orders by Dec. 16. These very attractive gift suggestions are priced from $1.95.

For a real treat, stop in LIGHT O' LAMP and see the wonderful selection of lamps. There are so many pretty things and so attractively priced you'll have trouble making up your mind which you want.

SHUGERT'S HOUSE OF TOYS has an especially nice line of games for boys and girls of all ages. A stop in the store will help you with the shopping you have to do for all the "small fry" on your list.

Don't forget ARCADIA MUSIC MART when you start looking for those records that are needed for the holidays. They have a very complete line of platters.

If you are planning some holiday photos you should call CARL-BERT STUDIO as soon as possible for your appointment. It's "later than you think."

HOUSE OF BOURBON has a complete assortment of Bischoff liquors bottled in a wide variety of Venetian glassware all beautifully boxed.

Those of you who are looking for some attractive Venetian glass and China gifts must stop in at RICHARD VICTOR and see the nice assortment of gift suggestions.

HARTMAN PHARMACY is the place to go for that gift for the "special" woman on your list. Their line of Dorothy Gray gift packages are simply lovely. The soft blue containers are so attractive and, of course, what's inside would please any woman.

GARLAND'S have done it again. Those beautiful Christmas tree ornaments from Germany have arrived and are even prettier this year than last. An assortment in pastel colors have been added to the silver and gold. Stop in and add a few more to your collection.

SIERRA MADRE PAINT AND WALLPAPER has a very nice line of art materials in both oils and water colors. They are attractively priced, too.

Don't forget about the SIERRA MADRE NURSERY SCHOOL'S Christmas Shopper's Night next Friday from 2 to 10 p.m. There'll be fun for all and a Pizza-rol dinner served from 5 to 8 p.m.

ROESS MARKET still has some of those attractively packaged Del Monte goodies. It's such a nice gift for people living alone or in apartments since the jars don't take up too much room.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

It was kind of fun to have had an early holiday, but in some states, including all or part of Texas, today is the day that is being celebrated as Thanksgiving.

I've been confused ever since they changed it 10 or 12 years ago. Bits of odd information along the way. Did you know that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated by the Pilgrims in Plymouth after the fall harvest in the year 1621?

MR. AND MRS. J. BAXTER Jovenat of 3307 Fairpoint were very happy to have their daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. Baxter Jovenat IV, and their grandchild, Jim, arrive last week in time for Thanksgiving. They probably will be here several weeks. Due to the trouble in the Middle East, she is unable to join her husband, who is stationed in Basra, Iraq.

MR. AND MRS. BURTON Dake of 2007 Villa Heights and their four children spent a four-day holiday at the Palm Springs Ranch Club last weekend.

MRS. SALLIE LOVE Bickle of 3207 Edge Cliff Lane joined her daughter, Jean, in Berkeley for Thanksgiving. They were joined by her son, Jack, who recently returned from Europe after his discharge from the Navy. They all enjoyed the Cal-Stanford game and there was great rivalry as Jack had attended Stanford.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD Smith of 3320 Calvert Road are the proud grandparents of a fourth grandson born to their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Smith of Rosemead. He was born Nov. 4, weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce and was named Steven Ray.

PALM SPRINGS seemed to be a popular playground for the local people over the past weekend. Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison of 1875 Sierra Madre Villa spent four days with two other couples at the White Sun down that way.

DR. AND MRS. CLETE Dorsey of 3390 Fairpoint and their son, Steve, spent a few days in San Diego visiting with Mrs. Dorsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schreiner.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. DUNNING of 3323 Barhite and their three children left last week for a four-day trip up to Berkeley to visit with Mrs. Dunning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Love.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD Halperin of 1490 Old House Road recently returned from a short stay at Rancho Santa Fe. They went down with the Howard Bakers of Upper Hastings. While they were there they visited the beautiful Kona Kai Club in San Diego.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Pember of 1270 Wynn Road entertained last Saturday night with a small dinner party which included the Eugene Kochs, the George Clarks and the E. P. Maurin Jr.

WE WERE SORRY to see the R. C. Fortners of 1247 Sierra Madre Villa move last week. At the present they are in a motel waiting for an apartment in the Park LaBrea area.

KIT ARMSTRONG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aikman Armstrong of 3450 Fairpoint, celebrated her birthday last Saturday by entertaining a group of 20 of her friends. They had movies and games, followed by ice cream and cake.

THE SAM MATLOFFS of 1590 Old House Road had a happy surprise last week when their son, Victor, flew in from New Jersey to spend the holiday with them. He was able to stay a week. Victor and his fiancée, Miss Susan Campbell, were very busy also making final plans for their January wedding.

Residents File Suit
Against Sears Corner

By Lucie Lubisich

Lower Hastings Ranch residents and neighboring Arcadia homeowners have filed suit in Superior Court in Los Angeles in an effort to keep Sears, Roebuck & Co. from building a store and service station partially on residential land at the corner of Foothill and Michillinda Blvds.

Named in the suit are the owners of the property, Frank, Edwin and Jack Murphy, individually and as a partnership; Sears, Roebuck & Co.; the City of Pasadena, and the Pasadena Board of Directors individually.

Seeking a permanent injunction restraining Murphy Bros., Sears, and the city from using the property in any way other than as it is zoned are the Hastings Ranch Property Owners Association Inc., the Rancho Santa Anita Property Owners Association Inc., and more than a score of individuals living in the adjoining neighborhoods, including presidents of the two associations, William Caldecott and Robert Geffs.

LISTED FROM Hastings Ranch also are Mr. and Mrs. Draper Jennings, Mrs. Nan White, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hasbrook, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Craig Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Harris C. Flannery. Four causes are listed in the citizens' complaint:

1. That Sears had no legal right to petition for the zone variance eventually granted them by the city directors because under Pasadena ordinance such petition may only be made by the owner or lessee. In their petition, Sears said leasing of the property hinged on their being granted the variances asked.

2. THAT CITY directors failed to follow the comprehensive plan of Pasadena's zoning law to provide an intermediate zone between commercial developments and single family dwellings, thereby "destroying the general zoning plan of the city."

3. That city directors granted a zone change in the guise of a "clear and gross abuse of discretion," that their ruling was "inequitable," "capricious" and "repugnant."

The fourth cause for complaint explains the background of the property from its development as raw land, setting forth that the area has been developed as a "fine residential area," and states that the use of the property as originally agreed upon will not work a hardship on the owners, since the land was purchased for $1.175 an acre and can be sold for $35,000 an acre today.

THE SUIT was filed for homeowners by Donald Ford of the Los Angeles law firm of Overton, Lyman and Prince.

Filing of the suit put into action the second part of the homeowners' attempt to protect their property from what they term encroaching commercialism.

More than 200 residents of Hastings Ranch already are out getting signatures on their petition for an initiative ordinance to have Pasadena voters establish an R-3 buffer zone, where one does not already exist, between their homes and commercial property on Foothill.

The property involved in the suit is approximately 550 feet square, being an R-1 zone 150 feet deep along Michillinda between the rear of Mayfair homes and Foothill, and a 400-foot R-3 and P section adjoining it.

The initiative seeks to establish a 250-foot R-3 strip between Hastings Ranch Rd. and the parcel mentioned in the suit, leaving a rectangular commercial section on Foothill about 1,000 by 350 feet.

Mrs. Bohman
Has Guests at Desert Home

Mrs. L. C. Bohman and daughters, Barb and Bonnie, were hostesses last weekend at their Morongo desert home on the road to Twenty-Nine Palms to several Ranch residents.

They included Mrs. Lee Peterson and daughter, Mary Lee; Mrs. Phil Farrell and son, Michael; and Mrs. Norman Shanks and daughter, Barbara.

Husbands and Boy Scout age sons of these women were taking part in the big Scout caravan in the Mojave Desert.

Local Alumni to Attend
AOPi Birthday Luncheon

Celebrating the 59th anniversary of the founding of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, a number of Hastings area residents will join with alumnae and collegiate chapters at a luncheon at noon Sunday in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

"Lighted Windows" is the theme for the day. Small red metallic houses with glittered roofs will decorate the tables. Chairman-toastmistress will be Mrs. Robert Rockwell, and principal speakers will be three past national presidents, Mrs. Darrell Rasmussen, Mrs. Verne W. McKinney and Miss Helen Haller. Miss June Bayless, Pasadena, district collegiate director, will present activity reports.

Collegiate members at the luncheon will provide choral music and outstanding students will receive awards.

Alpha Omicron Pi was founded at Barnard College, Columbia University, in 1897. There are 60 collegiate and 128 alumnae chapters throughout the United States and Canada. Their national philanthropy is maintaining the social service department of the Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky, with chapters sending boxes of clothing, toys, gifts and books to the mountain people throughout the year. Locally, chapters do hospital service at the California Rehabilitation Center Library, the Florence Crittenden Home and the Children's Home Society.

Among reservations made locally for the luncheon are those of Mrs. Phillips G. Smith, Mrs. Frederick Haines, Mrs. Frank G. Wheeler and Mrs. Ralph W. Smith.

SANTA FE NET DIPS Santa Fe's net income for October, 1956, was $6,603.586, according to a statement released by President F. G. Gurley. Net income for the first 10 months of 1956 was $52,247,543 compared with $56,402,285 in the first 10 months of 1955.

PREPARING FOR THE annual benefit sale to establish a scholarship to Stanford for a Pasadena-area girl are Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mrs. Edward Fleischer, Mrs. David Bierhorst and Mrs. Harold Hennacy, all members of the Junior Stanford Women's Club of Pasadena.

Holiday
At Resort

The Dominic F. Giangregorios, 990 Pepperhill, and their sons, Gary, Greg and Grant, joined forces with the Harlan A. Dunns, 1005 Pepperhill, and their children, Harlan, Laura and Kevin, for a holiday in the mountains. The Ranch residents left Friday for Lake Gregory, where they were guests at the San Moritz Lodge, and returned Sunday evening.

Women Voters
Hold Monthly
Meeting Today

Hastings Ranch Unit of League of Women Voters of Pasadena will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Conrad Walburger, 510 Pembroke Drive, this morning.

Mrs. Wilton Stewart will present material on "Local Level of School Administration as It Relates to the State."

How much responsibility does a local district care to take financially and educationally as regards to building and operation of the schools will be one of the points to be stressed. Also, the advantages and disadvantages to larger or smaller school districts will be presented. Mrs. Lee Sanders will lead the discussion.

The meeting is open to the public. All interested persons are invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. Ralph Gann, ELgin 5-6144, or Mrs. Carl Shafer, ELgin 5-3758.

Hastings
Teen-TimesBy Pat Smith
ELgin 5-1903

The ski-enthusiastic Ken Smith family started the season out with their annual Thanksgiving weekend at Mammoth. Steve, Ken and Stanley all had new equipment that they were eager to try out.

Mammoth is really the place to go this time of year. It really has the longest ski run in California. The snow conditions are very good most of the time but there are times when a pair of ice skates would serve better than skis. I speak from experience!

JACK GREGORY and his mother and father took their traditional Thanksgiving trip to Fresno to visit Jack's grandmother. They had a wonderful turkey dinner.

PRISCILLA WATSON and Ditty Dittberner spent the weekend in Las Vegas with Dr. and Mrs. Watson. This is getting to be old stuff for them but it never ceases to be a blast.

THE BOY SCOUTS of Troop 377 spent the weekend, from early Friday morning to Sunday, on the desert. The Desert Caravan that the boys attended was sponsored by the San Gabriel Valley Council. Camp was pitched 22 miles up in the mountains west of Rosamond. The boys did all the work, even the cooking. They used the new trailer which was rebuilt by the fathers. A special patch is given to each boy who attended.

Jimmy Bohman, Don Cotten, Timmy Doyle, Bobbie Eichelberger, John Garrison Dean Lingren, Roger Shanks, Marty Smith, Jack Griffith and Chet Osborn helped make up the 4,000 boys who attended.

DECEMBER 14 is a date that we must all set aside, for it is the night of Wilson's Christmas Dance. The dance is the biggest of the year.

PRACTICALLY EVERYONE I have talked to about their Thanksgiving said they had a wonderful turkey dinner. All of the girls and some of the guys also went to see Elvis in "Love Me Tender" at some time during weekend. Oh, that Elvis! What a Doll!

G. A. Schlueters
Visit Relatives
In Oakland

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Schlueter, 1235 Tropical, and their son, Greg, have returned from Oakland, where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Schlueter's mother, Mrs. Mary Skinner. Greg also celebrated his 12th birthday anniversary while in the north.

Included in the trip was the Schlueter's black standard poodle, "Susie."

Benefit Sale Planned
By Stanford Women

The Stanford Women's Club of Pasadena, Junior Division, has scheduled its annual benefit sale, "Holiday Surprises," next Wednesday in the San Marino home of Mrs. Phillip Smith, 1280 Garfield, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The sale will feature clever and inexpensive Christmas gifts and unique holiday decorations. There is no admission charge and refreshments will be served throughout the day.

The "Holiday Surprises" include gifts for every member of the family, from gaily-colored stuffed cloths for a baby, to beautifully-packaged fruitcakes for grandmother.

Gifts for every age group in between can be found as well as gay and festive decorations for the fireplace, mantel, door and almost every room in the house.

All of the attractive items have been designed and donated by members of the club—both seniors and juniors.

Mrs. Fred P. Lyte and Mrs. James Crowell, co-chairmen of this annual affair, are being assisted by Mrs. Charles McClung and Mrs. J. Foster Hames.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. William Pennycook, Mrs. William B. Cook, Mrs. Maynard Garrison, Mrs. Harry F. Booth, Mrs. Thomas Barrow, Mrs. Hamilton DeJong, Mrs. Colin E. MacKay, Mrs. Delbert Gambill, Mrs. Elias W. Smith, Mrs. John L. Church Jr. and Miss Jeanne Thomas.

Co-ordinating the activities of the senior division of the group are Mrs. Merle S. Templeton and her committee, Mrs. Charles M. Woodward, Mrs. H. E. LeGrand and Mrs. Byron Knapp.

This event is under the general direction of Mrs. David H. Bierhorst, president of the junior group.

The sale, which the club likes to think has become a holiday tradition in Pasadena, is held to establish a scholarship to Stanford for a Pasadena-area girl.

Lari Osborn Wins Tourney
After Short Golfing Career

By Charles Ayres

Lari Osborn, from down on Shadow Grove, has been playing golf for a little over a year and a half now. Just to prove that she hasn't been wasting her time, Lari hauled off and won the sixth-flight championship of the Pasadena Women's Open Golf Tournament held recently at Brookside Park.

Lari, who carries a 29 handicap, had to play five consecutive days and the championship match went 20 holes before she won. She is a member of the Glendora Country Club but doesn't restrict her playing to that course. She plays weekly with See Sweet and Helen Nash, also of the Ranch.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of golf, Lou Jennings, the Ranch pro, is looking forward to the Montebello Open due next month, and then the Los Angeles Open which comes around the first of the year. Lou has been playing the Southern California tournaments against top-flight competition.

BEN WADE, Hastings Ranch contribution to professional baseball and star pitcher for the Hollywood Stars, has forsaken winter baseball and is staying in Santa Anita during the coming racing season. Ben was troubled with a soreness in his pitching arm toward the end of the season and on the advice of the team medics is giving the flipper a rest.

JACK SORESENSEN'S Washington Junior High football team completed its second consecutive undefeated season and won the undisputed crown of the western district. This year the city junior high schools were divided into an eastern and western district. The eastern area still has 10th grade students but under the new system will lose them when the new high school is built. The western district is down to the 9th grade this year.

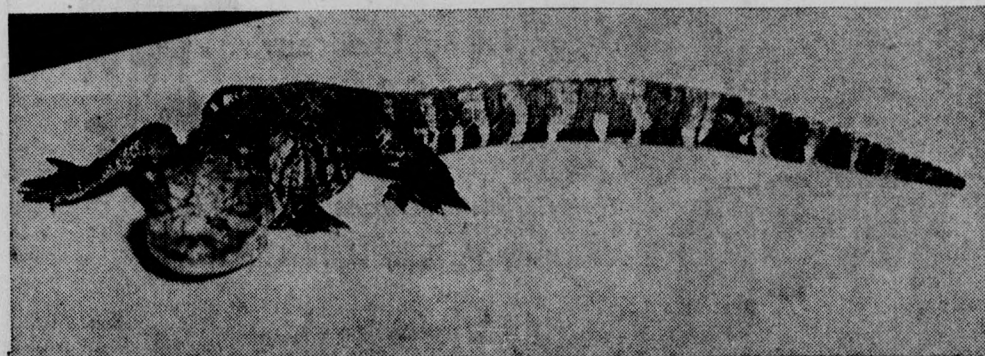

FOR FANS who want to see top-flight exciting football, they needn't go further than the Junior Rose Bowl game to be played Dec. 8

Garden Club
Discusses
Holiday Decor

The Hastings Ranch Garden Club met for its last meeting of 1956 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Gutzeit, 3695 Greenhill, with Mrs. Ken Smith as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Ruth Blakeman, local florist, gave a demonstration of Christmas arrangements. Mrs. Emil Barlow, club president, led the club in an exchange of holiday decorating ideas with each member presenting an arrangement or suggestion.

See Ya Later, Alligator . . .

'ALI' KRAUS

Meet "Ali," the friendly alligator who has come to live at the Russell Krauses, 1420 Valley View. "Ali" was the surprise going-away gift to Mr. Kraus from his co-workers at Cal-Tech's Jet Propulsion Lab before he left there to accept a position at Giannini's in Pasadena, an engineering firm. A note attached to "Ali" and headed "A Pet for Your Pool," painted this rosy future: "Just imagine the fun you'll have watching the startled expressions on the faces of your friends as they are pulled beneath the surface." They'll have to wait a while, though, for "Ali" is just a baby, 14 inches long. In addition to "Ali" whom it is hoped can be foisted off on some zoo, Mr. Kraus was presented with a photographer's light exposure meter.

It was a week of surprises for Mr. Kraus. On Nov. 12, the night before his birthday, a group of neighbors gathered for a surprise party in the Kraus home, surprising the guest of honor in his bathrobe.

On hand were the Hans Winklers, Fred Goodes, Charles Butters, Steve Johnsons, Charles Waters, Dr. and Mrs. Jacobson, the Mike Meahls, the Walter Tenness, Mrs. Betty Rae Sophien and Allan Pulsifer.

FREEWAY WIDENING

The addition of two more lanes to a three-mile stretch of the Hollywood Freeway from Highland Ave. to Lankershim Blvd. was approved this week by the Los Angeles Board of Public Works. The program now goes before the L.A. City Council for approval.

When worst comes to worst try to make the most of it.

Cub Scout Pack 377 Plans Christmas Party, Project

Cub Scouts of Eugene Field Pack 377 will bring toys to donate to the U.S. Marine Corps "Toys for Tots" at their Christmas party Dec. 14 at the school.

The boys heard Marine Sgt. P. Cisco describe the project, its history and purpose at the November Pack meeting. Also in November, the following boys received these awards:

COUNT TEN

A real sportsman is one who can take the kinks out of fishing tackle without putting a few in the English language.

A friend in need is one who has been playing the races.

WHICH CAME FIRST—the chicken or the egg? Pasadena City College co-eds Yvonne Engholm, left, and Peggy Bennett seek answers to the age-old query as they illustrate the theme of the 68th annual Tournament of Roses pageant in Pasadena on New Year's Day. The theme, "Famous Firsts in Flowers," will be portrayed by 61 major floats.

TASTY STUFFINGS

Of course you may roast a chicken or turkey without stuffing. But you're missing some mighty fine eating if you do.

To roast without stuffing, simply season both cavities well, truss the bird and cook by your favorite method. Allow a little less roasting time when stuffing is not used.

For those who prefer stuffing the bird, there are many recipes for tasty stuffings. Here are a few that seem to be especially favored.

Each recipe will make enough stuffing for a 4 to 5 pound roasting chicken. Make three to four times the amount for a 12 to 16 pound turkey.

SAVORY BREAD STUFFING

(A dry crumbly stuffing)
1/2 C. butter
1 small onion, finely chopped
4 C. coarse, dry bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning or powdered sage

Put butter and onion into a large saucepan. Cook over low flame until onion is slightly yellow and transparent. Stir in crumbs and seasonings and continue stirring over very low flame until crumbs are lightly browned.

variations:

Celery—Cook about a cup of thinly sliced celery with the onion.
Mushroom—Cook 1 cup sliced mushrooms with the onion.
Nut—Decrease bread crumbs 3/4 cup. Lightly brown 1 cup chopped nut meats in butter before onion is added. Walnuts, almonds, pecans, peanuts, etc. may be used.

MOIST BREAD STUFFING

1 small onion, finely chopped
1/4 C. butter
1 C. milk
1 egg, beaten
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. poultry seasonings
6 C. dry bread cubes

Saute onion in butter until slightly yellow. Add milk, egg and seasonings. Pour over bread cubes and toss gently to mix. Variations such as those suggested in the recipe for Savory Bread Stuffing may be used.

GIBLET STUFFING

Simmer heart, gizzard and neck in water to cover until almost tender. Put in liver and finish cooking. Chop meat coarsely and use 1 to 2 cups in place of 1 to 2 cups bread cubes in Moist Bread Stuffing. Use broth instead of part of the milk.

CORN BREAD STUFFING

1/2 C. thinly sliced celery
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 C. butter
3 C. dry bread cube
1 1/2 C. crumbled corn bread
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 tsp. powdered sage
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley

Lightly saute celery and onion in butter. Then combine with all the other ingredients, tossing lightly to mix well. If a moist stuffing is desired, add a little stock or milk.

Christmas Spirit Lights Up Southland in December

Christmas is an outdoor spectacular in the truest television sense in Southern California. Entire towns are decorated to resemble Bethlehem, carolers sing from power cruisers and barges in the canals of Naples, and whole business districts reflect scenes from the Nativity.

No other area of the nation has such an abundance of Christmas decorations, such as a variety of holy pageants as Southern California, according to the All-Year Club's December Events Calendar.

In the little desert town of Joshua Tree, merchants construct false fronts to stores and office buildings until the entire town becomes a replica of the Holy Land. There are statues and figures of shepherds and the Three Wise Men. In the evening, these figures are replaced with live characters who act out the story of the Nativity, using Main Street as a stage. Between scenes, a robed choir sings carols. This community-wide pageant is held nightly starting at 7:30 during the week before Christmas.

THE ANNUAL Naples Parade of Lights in Long Beach is one of the most colorful Christmas celebrations. This year, it will be held Dec. 22 and 23. Power cruisers, yachts, sailboats, barges, all decorated with Christmas lights and scenes, parade through the Naples Canals to Alamitos Bay, with carolers singing across the waters. The parade begins at 7 p.m.

From Dec. 20 to 24, the Fullerton Kiwanis Club sponsors a nightly Christmas pageant in Fullerton's Hillcrest Park. The entire pageant can be viewed from parking spaces along the highway, thanks to the remarkable lighting and public address system.

Santa Monica is receiving nationwide acclaim for its manner of celebrating the Yule season. Throughout the city, only religious themes are portrayed.

IN THE BUSINESS district, in parks, and along the streets there are scenes from the Nativity. And in the city-owned Miles Playhouse, an unusual presentation of the Nativity Play is held every evening from Dec. 6 to 18. The performance follows faithfully the one first presented in 1470 by the five merchant Guilds of York, with medieval costumes.

Ontario's beautiful Pepper Tree Lane down Euclid Ave.—three miles of 'em—will be decorated again this year with colored lights and decorations.

The Griffith Park Planetarium again will compare the night sky at the time and authentic chorals, many of which have never been heard before in America.

Van Nuys will stage its annual Bethlehem Star Parade at 6:30 o'clock the night of Dec. 8. Some 30 floats, many built by studio set designers, parade through the business district, each float depicting some scene from the life and ministry of Christ.

IN LA JOLLA the annual Christmas Parade will begin at 7 p.m. the evening of Dec. 7. Included in the parade will be musical units, majorettes, military formations, drill teams, decorated floats and cars, and Santa riding in a red convertible. The parade ends at the La Jolla Library where Santa turns on the lights decorating a 100-foot tree, plus all the downtown Christmas lights.

Hollywood's famous Santa Claus Lane celebrations continue up until Christmas. The big opening parade features movie and television stars—more gathered at one time than in any other Hollywood event. Nearly half a million people line Hollywood Blvd. for this parade.

Huntington Park routes its Christmas Lane parade along Pacific Ave. the night of Dec. 1 as second only to Hollywood's as the biggest in the state. There will be floats and riders with silvery saddlery valued at over $1,500,000. More than 15,000 lights will decorate Pacific Ave. for 18 blocks.

BAKERSFIELD'S annual Santa Claus Parade will be held Dec. 6 with the theme "Memories Are Made of This." Prizes will be awarded for floats best depicting religious themes.

Ontario's beautiful Pepper Tree Lane down Euclid Ave.—three miles of 'em—will be decorated again this year with colored lights and decorations.

The Griffith Park Planetarium again will compare the night sky at the time of the Nativity with the current night sky over Los Angeles. The Southland is in the same latitude as the Holy Land.

Riverside's Chamber of Commerce again sponsors a city-wide home decorating contest with prizes for the finest outdoor Christmas decorations. The contest begins Dec. 15 and continues through Christmas.

Altadena's famous Christmas Tree Lane is turned on at 5 p.m. Christmas Eve and nightly thereafter until 11 p.m. New Year's Eve. This mile-long stand of giant Cedars glows so brightly that visitors drive down the avenue with their headlights off. The street is Santa Rosa.

CHURCH CHOIRS from various San Marino congregations sing carols on Huntington Drive each evening preceding Christmas in San Marino.

All along the Pacific Ocean in Orange County, communities compete for prizes in the annual "Forty Miles of Christmas Shrines" competition Dec. 14 to 25. Business districts, homes, piers, boats, oil fields—all are decked out with Christmas scenes and color.

Glendale's Brand Blvd. becomes a "tunnel of lights" from Nov. 26 until Christmas.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—5 Thursday, Nov. 29, 1956

In Beverly Hills, movie and television stars living there compete for best home and estate decorations. Life-size Santas climb over rooftops, waterfalls become centers of winter scenes, and all in all, the city is a giant outdoor Christmas scene.

Q. What household servant works for less than 1939 wages?
A. Electricity

"UNLIKE MOST everything else you buy," explains Reddy Kilowatt, your electrical servant, "electricity costs you less today than it did 17 years ago." (Bigger bill? That's because you're using more and living better electrically.) Small wonder that today electricity is your biggest bargain in modern living.

On the Trails

In his previous column, Mr. Wark began his account of the fabulous railroad and mountain resort built by Prof. Thaddeus S. C. Lowe on the peak a few miles west of Sierra Madre which bears his name. Here he concludes his story.

By Bill Wark

The Pasadena-Mount Wilson Railway was the name first selected for the proposed railway, as the original plan had been to build the railroad to the summit of Mount Wilson, where the view of the valley and site for a hotel were unsurpassed. Unfortunately, that mountain top was already occupied by interests who had plans of their own for the development of this location, and Prof. Lowe decided to build toward Mount Lowe and the little forested valley at Crystal Springs.

It was rough going from the start. While the engineers were risking their necks on the precipitous brush-covered slopes searching for a passable route to lay the rails to the summit of Echo Mountain, Prof. Lowe was studying the ridge which led directly there from Rubio Canyon, and startled the engineers and the whole valley by proposing the cable incline as the simplest, most direct and economical solution to their problem.

Construction of the railway began in 1891. A large part of the roadbed in the canyon had to be blasted from solid rock, with the rock men suspended by ropes down the face of the cliffs.

After the roadbed was completed to the foot of the incline and the rails were laid, the first cars came up, pulled by horses, and on Dec. 28, 1892, a construction cable weighing 3,000 pounds was pulled up the incline. On the same day heavy timbers for trestles and bridges were going up the grade on temporary rollers.

It was at the site of the junction of the Rubio Canyon rails with the incline that Prof. Lowe chose to build the first of his mountain hotels, a beautiful canyon resort. The Rubio Pavilion was the scene of many notable gatherings and will be remembered with pleasure by thousands of visitors from all over the world, and it is reported that during the first year this mountain railroad carried 60,000 passengers between Altadena and the Rubio Pavilion.

"It spanned the narrow gorge from wall to wall. A long series of falls, cascades and crystal pools brought a tumbling stream to and under the Pavilion, and it was shaded by great trees which grew up from the bottom or overhung from the canyon walls, trails and plank walks, and stairs took one over and around the stream, cascades and falls, and on weekends the lights of 2,000 Chinese lanterns turned stream, trees and towering walls into a fairyland of light and color," recalled one observer.

The upper platform carried, besides the double tracks of the railroad, a spacious music hall and ballroom, refreshment stands and ticket office. In the hotel underneath was a huge dining room without a post to obstruct the view.

Tragedy came to the Pavilion, and with it the only violent death connected with this railroad, during a heavy storm on Feb. 12, 1909. The rain fell in torrents, and a churning wind howled all through the canyon. Then suddenly lightning struck the huge rocks on the mountain side above the Pavilion, sending them hurtling down upon the building, and shattering it into the canyon, which by this time carried a raging torrent, 60 feet wide and 15 feet deep.

This flood gathered up the wreckage and completed the destruction of the Pavilion. The Drew family was in the dining room of the Pavilion at the time. One of the Drew children was killed, and other members of the family were seriously injured.

The hotel was never rebuilt and Rubio Canyon is now a desolate and dangerous place.

BLOOD "EXPANDERS" and albumin—a plasma derivative—stored in the Federal Civil Defense Administration's stockpiles would be indispensable after a large attack to supplement limited supplies of whole blood for millions of casualties in first aid stations such as above. For example, 5,000,000 casualties would require an estimated 7,500,000 pints of whole blood, 2,000,000 bottles of albumin and 5,500,000 bottles of blood "expanders" during the first three weeks after attack. By mid-1957, FCDA expects to have enough blood derivatives and plasma volume "expanders" stored to provide for 4 1/4 million casualties.

Your Health...

TB No Longer a Disease Of the Young, Doctor Says

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

One of the popular misconceptions regarding tuberculosis is that the disease usually afflicts younger people only, and owing to this belief many older persons do not consider it necessary to protect themselves against it in any way.

Formerly tuberculosis did chiefly affect young people under 20, but that is no longer true. In the current trend, more and more individuals in the middle and older age groups become ill with this disease.

Recent statistics compiled by the County Health Department should do much to dispel any indifference on the part of mature persons regarding tuberculosis. Out of the 1,063 new cases of the disease recorded during 1955, a total of 541 were found in persons older than 39.

WHAT IS MORE, the disease continued to strike with proportionate frequency in the ranks of those who achieve ages 60, 70, 80 or even older. Interestingly enough, in the over-45 age group, more than four times as many men as women are its victims.

Whether young or elderly, people generally catch tuberculosis in the same old way, and that is by exposure to an active case. Many persons are infected with the germs of tuberculosis in their younger years but overcome the invasion of tubercle bacilli successfully.

In such cases, the germs remain enclosed in the healed lesions for years. Indeed, the individual may never be aware that he has the disease at all.

Following a deterioration in the physical condition such as may occur from chronic illness, mental and emotional stress, advancing frailty due to aging, or malnutrition, the disease may become active again in certain of these individuals.

IN FACT, many of the newly recorded cases in older persons apparently develop from this latent source of infection.

However, a poor physical condition also makes any person more susceptible to tuberculosis. It is true that during youth and early middle age the body's natural resilience and vitality enable quick recovery from nearly all degrees of abuse, but this recuperative ability decreases with age.

Malnutrition can be a causative factor in reactivating a healed case of tuberculosis, and this is often true among the aged.

FOR ONE THING, the eating habits of large numbers of individuals have never been good, and the rigidity of food patterns tends to be deeply rooted in older people. Some elderly persons are often restricted to diets of soft, mushy foods because of missing teeth or ill-fitting dentures, while many others living on the reduced incomes of retirement lack the nutritional knowledge that would enable them to get the most in food value for the money they spend.

As a result, they eat too many of the starches and grains, which seemingly are both cheaper to buy and easier to prepare. Older men, generally dependent on others in the matter of food preparation, are most often the worst fed of all the aged.

THERE ARE MANY health problems that face every elderly or the near-elderly person. A chest X-ray taken about once a year may detect tuberculosis in an early stage. X-rays are available in most neighborhoods approximately once each year through mobile survey trucks. Or inquiries may be made at any local health center regarding this service.

The early detection of tuberculosis in either the aged or the young provides the best assurance that its advance can be quickly halted. A pamphlet on tuberculosis may be obtained from the Division of Health Education, L.A. County Health Department, 241 N. Figueroa, L.A. 12.
